The Announcement of the 『eNWB』 Service Launch

Nippon Wealth Limited, a restricted licence bank (hereinafter called NWB , CEO Tsutomu Nakajima,) is pleased to announce the launch of the eNWB service starting today.

NWB, a financial institution specialized in wealth management, offers as its core services (1) banking services, (2) investment services and (3) insurance and annuity services. NWB has been providing the banking services for the clients who deposit over HKD500,000 or equivalent and investment services for the clients who place financial assets of USD 100,000 or more until June 30th *.

NWB is now launching new investment services called “eNWB” to clients who wish to start investing USD 100 or above. Through the eNWB service, the clients are able to invest in mutual funds without maintaining a minimum deposit balance. As part of the eNWB service, a monthly mutual fund saving plan called "Fund Savings Plan" will also start in July.

*There is no minimum threshold set by NWB on the insurance services. It follows the minimum thresholds set by the insurance company.
